NEVADA HIGH SCHOOL
NEVADA, MO.
VOLUME 29

Foreword

This is Nevada High School, a myriad of inquisitive minds and varied personalities, ever seeking answers to the questions of tomorrow.

It is the place where dreams materialize into realities of democracy and freedom.

In the brief period of 300 minutes, each student experiences moments which will live forever in his mind and heart. These are the moments which the Nevada staff has attempted to preserve in a finished picture that will make 1966 stand out as the year in which great goals were achieved.

That Was

the Year . . .

. . . when the heart of each student swelled at the mention of the football season and its many accomplishments . . . that brought the NHS basketball squad through a rough season in good shape . . . when no one minded freezing under a blanket or being crushed in a crowded gymnasium . . . while the swelling pride in the faces of the coaches lived on with each student to remind him of each memorable feat.

Dear Joyce,
 Lots of luck to a really cute kid. Always remember the Year . . .

. . . when Nevada High School boasted its first foreign exchange student . . . that brought about greater opportunities for study by the transformation to a seven-period day . . . when each senior lived through the glories of high school for the last time . . . when a new program of Industrial Building Trades was developed to broaden educational facilities for the students . . . when the development of a counseling center enabled students to acquire information about the requirements of various colleges and universities . . . and when fund-raising projects set new records to be broken.

That Was

the Year . . .

. . . when the character of NHS was changed by the new addition to the building, the reorganized lunch system, and the added facilities of the school parking lot . . . when a new organization formed the core of its convention held in Nevada . . . when a highlight trip to Europe by Mr. C. H. Jones created better understanding and fellowship between countries . . . and Mr. W. Garland Keithly accepted the office as president of the Big-Ten Conference.

That Was

. . . that brought about new facilities in Junior High Art, Science and Vocal Music . . . when 12 new teachers entered into the life cycle of NHS . . . and when the creation of a Spanish department and laboratory gave each student a more thorough background of languages. Yes, 1966 was the year when Nevada High School donned a new aspect from which many individuals emerged.

Devoted to the molding of students for college and for future success, the teachers of Nevada High School serve as the cornerstone of life. Through years of careful planning and preparation, they provide favorable atmosphere for learning. They strive to encourage the student to think and to learn for himself, and to prepare him for his entrance into society. Thus, the faculty serves as a tie between the school and the community.

ORGANIZATIONS

It is the work of the Senior High Council to erect the foundation for better leadership. This year the council undertook the task of supporting a foreign exchange student. Careful planning and hard work were illustrated by the council in this project. The Senior High Council supplies modern ideas in advancing leadership, citizenship, and sportsmanship to the student body, who have a reflection upon the community.

The Junior High Council works parallel with the Senior High Council in various school activities. The council's sponsor, Mr. Bill Hamblin, depicts the importance of early government leadership. Members of the council attend conventions to further their knowledge of leadership. Within the school they put this leadership into action by helping to plan Anti-Van, helping in the White Christmas assembly, selling pencils, and by setting an example for the Junior High student body.

"NOT TOO MUCH OFF THE TOP" . . . says Scott, as he carefully instructs Mr. Twink Mathis of the Nevada Barber Shop.

PARTICIPATION . . . in the Student government at NHS becomes a vital part of Scott's extra-curricular activities.

SCOTT'S MODE OF TRANSPORTATION . . . here in America resembles the type that is used in his own home country, Thailand.

FAMILY LIVING IN AN AMERICAN HOME . . . becomes realistic to Scott as he enjoys his home life with the Tom Thorpe family.

Scott Discovers America

Made possible by the students and the community, the Foreign Exchange Program was a complete success in bringing Scott Sornsena to America. Under the leadership of Miss Gladys Radford, the project was launched by the selling of friendship bonds to members of the Student Body. The balance of the funds needed was allocated by the community.

Nevada High School took much pride in its foreign exchange student. Scott became an honorary member of Student Council, vice-president of DeBarr Club, and a senior superlative. While Scott familiarized himself with the traditions of American life, the students of NHS discovered customs of life in Thailand.

Thus, Thailand did a lot for NHS this past year. It gave us a new friend, a passport to conversational Asia, and best of all an opportunity to see ourselves as others see us.

THE ENGLISH LANGUAGE . . . becomes more meaningful to Scott as he receives instruction in his English II class.

Layout-Copy-Deadline

TAKING TIME-OUT . . . from daily routine are John Conway, assistant editor; Karen Svetlecic, editor; and Joe Bradham, school photographer.

THE "DEADLINE IS TODAY . . ." is the cry many times before a yearbook is ready to be enjoyed by the many students who await its completion. The staff members with the assistance of the sponsor, Mrs. Myrtle Pickens, worked diligently to make this an outstanding vehicle through which the activities of the school could be transmitted into the various homes of the community.

Journalism Characterizes Crimson and Gray Staff

Solicited twice each month, the newspaper is published by capable staff members, who do their work each morning before school. Under the supervision of Mrs. Marie Butner, the staff covers school activities, sells advertising, and writes editorials. It is the intention of all the staff members to reveal the CRIMSON AND GRAY as a more enlightening and enjoyable newspaper.

Scholarship Excels

EXTENSIVE STUDY AND LIBRARY RESEARCH . . . have placed Mike Haggans and Carol Nichols at the top of their class. Mike, valedictorian, and Carol, salutatorian, look to the future with bright hopes.

Scholarship has become a meaningful word to the top ranking seniors. By setting a high goal and achieving it, the Top 10% have the feeling of accomplishment. The class rank is determined on the completion of seven semesters of high school work. Determination and studious habits are some of the qualities possessed by the Top 10%. These students realize the importance for future preparation of life and have begun laying that foundation.

The Honor Society members "hold high the torch" as a symbol of Scholarship, Leadership, Character, and Service. Rated by the faculty on these characteristics, the members must maintain an "S" average. These selected students represent the desire and the ability of youth to learn.

ESSENTIAL ELEMENTS . . . of the Thespians environment are comedy and tragedy, HAMLET, a Thespian pin, make-up, the Thespian pledge and gavel, and a play book.

PRIDE AND SATISFACTION . . . are reflected in the face of Peggy Perkins as she admires the King Trophy, awarded to her by the Art Association for outstanding art work.

Representing the Art Clubs of Bolivar, El Dorado Springs, Pierce City, Stockton, Willow Springs, Springfield, and Nevada, each year the Southwest Missouri Student District Art Association holds a convention displaying the creative art work of the various schools. Selected art work from the convention is placed in the Traveling Art Exhibit. The highlights of the convention include the election of officers and the presentation of trophies. Last year, representing Nevada, Beth LaGuire was chosen president of the Association and Peggy Perkins received the King Award and two small trophies. This year Nevada was host to the third annual art convention.

ident; Francis Lamore, secretary-treasurer; Debbie Ireland, president; and seventh grade officers: Debbie Lathrop, secretary-treasurer; Doug Walton, president; and Carl Pokorny, vice-president.

Mr. Albert Quick, sponsor of the Math Club, proves to be the combining element of the club.

Math, Science, and Photo Clubs stimulate minds to the better understanding of scientific matters.

Members of the Science Club, sponsored by Mr. Jack Nelson, take part in many activities which help broaden their scientific knowledge. These activities include taking various field trips, attending the annual science fair held in Springfield each year, and conducting experiments in the laboratory.

Equations, theorems, and geometric figures constitute the vocabulary of the members of the Math Club. These students, under Mr. Albert Quick, meet regularly to work on various kinds of mathematical problems.

The Photo Club, under Mr. Chris Schwanz, attempts to educate its members with the fundamentals of photography. They take part in the entire processes of developing pictures and also strive to develop better techniques for themselves.

Unlimited Knowledge

Sponsoring the Photography Club, Mr. Chris Schwanz works many extra hours in preparation for the club's activities.

Through Research

C.O.E. MEMBERS . . . find it quite pleasant to learn and earn at the same time. FRONT ROW: Velma Williams, Shelia Saathoff, Ginger Gladden, Judy Fletchall, Kay Spencer, Karen Svetlecic, Linda Hornecker, Joanna Phillips, Kerry Baucom, Elaine Ireland, Joanna Crawford, Billie Clark, Judith McVicker, and Elaine Robinson. ROW TWO: Terry Covington, Jo Ed McReynolds, Pat Price, Helen Arnold, Diane Moberly,

C.O.E. and Commercial

C.O.E., short for Cooperative Occupational Education, proves to be a linking factor between the school and the community. Its main purpose is to prepare its members for the enormous world of business. The club, sponsored by Mr. Ray Bennett, participates in many activities throughout the school year. These activities all contribute to the knowledge of the business world.

LIBRARY EXPERIENCE . . . is gained by Linda Hornecker as she efficiently reshelves books in their respective places.

Joyce I miss this old library - maybe I will miss the books in the right places for a change. Keep smiling and keep always 7 Linda Hornecker '66

The Commercial Club, sponsored by Miss Pamela Porr, strives to interest students in the field of business. To qualify for membership, one must be enrolled in one of the secretarial courses. Many of their activities include reports on new business advancements and the opportunity to take various field trips. Members also have the chance to become acquainted with the many business machines used in the business world.

Williams. ROW TWO: Helen Arnold, Diane Moberly, Billie Clark, Judith McVicker, Karen Svetlecic, Joanna Crawford, Kay Spencer, and Roxanna Wilson.

May Shumaker; Becky Best; and Judy Flynn. ROW THREE: Lois Cavanaugh; Connie Pulliam; Marilyn Brittingham; Nan Brown; Debbie Venter; Sharon Winters; Jeanne Zoglmann; Mable Waltz; Helen Scott; Lillian Calvin; and Rose Mary Waltz.

Girls with a Goal

FASHION BECOMES . . . an exciting variation in the year's activities for Shelia Meritt, Nancy Nall, Connie Neill, Judith McVicker, Joanna Crawford, and Helen Hill.

To provide valuable training for the management of tomorrow's homes is the main objective of the Future Homemakers of America. This experience is accomplished through class work and organizational activities under the direction of Mrs. Barbara Bennett. These activities include various banquets, such as the Mother-Daughter Banquet and Style Show presented in the spring.

Future Farmers receive recognition for agricultural skills gained through events of the year. With their sponsor, Mr. Bill Hires, they participate in judging contests, conventions, and attend the American Royal. Providing a change of pace during the summer months, the boys get together for swimming parties, hayrides, and over-night camping trips.

Future Agriculturists

LEADERSHIP . . . seems to be fulfilled as Ginger Gladden directs a discussion in one of the earlier meetings of FTA.

FTA - Instructors of Tomorrow

TO SERVE . . . the teachers seems to be the general consensus of the FTA officers, as Mrs. Myrtle Pickens and Mrs. Omeda Erickson, FTA sponsors, look on. FRONT ROW: Connie Eslinger, vice-president, and Ginger Gladden, president. ROW TWO: Marja Perkins, secretary; Deanna Carlini, parliamentarian; Jane Foster, reporter; Cheryl Smith, treasurer; and Judy Emery, historian.

The chance to explore the many aspects of teaching is given to those students who belong to the Future Teachers of America. The sponsors, Mrs. Myrtle Pickens and Mrs. Omeda Erickson, not only supervise the many and varied activities of the organization, but also provide members with ideas on teaching from their many years of experience. Included on the organization's agenda for the year are a drive for new members climaxed by a cookout, the observance of Teaching-Career Month in April, and Senior Day on which senior club members visit and observe classroom sessions to learn more about the teaching field of their choice. FTA, then, fulfills a basic need in the extra-curricular activities of NHS.

"WHAT NEXT?" . . . seems to be the question as Mr. Des Dehon plans Auto Safety Club activities.

Careful Driving - Saves Lives

EAGER ANTICIPATION . . . is ever present as Auto Safety Club members leave on their annual trip to Kansas City.

FILMS PROVIDE . . . a major portion of the criteria for the Auto Safety Club. The officers examining the film projector are: Pam Nico-demus, secretary; Larry Gragg, reporter; Mr. Des Dehon, sponsor; Larry Stevenson, vice-president; and Bob Garner, president.

Promoting an awareness of safety on the highways is the primary objective of the Auto Safety Club. Under the supervision of Mr. Des Dehon, this objective is carried out through films, lectures, and actual driving situations. An annual trip to the Auto Show in Kansas City highlights the club's activities for the year.

Government Through the Student's Eye

EXPERIENCE IN AMERICAN GOVERNMENT . . . is the purpose of the Mayor-for-a-Day project. Shown, as they prepare for the actual City Council session, are, SEATED: Steve Howell (Mayor Pro Tem), Mayor Homer Ellis, John Conway (Mayor). Brent Mendenhall, Judy Fletchall, and Chris Whitehead.

For the eleventh year, the NHS Senior High Student Council sponsored the Mayor-for-a-Day project. This activity gives Senior High students the opportunity to file for city offices and to gain in leadership ability. The five councilmen are elected by the student body and then in turn appoint students to execute jobs in city government. Throughout the day the students work with the city officials, and, at a luncheon, they report their experiences. Later that night, the councilmen participate in an actual council meeting where they learn the mechanics of city government. Through this program students gain valuable insight into the operation of a democratic government within their own small town, Nevada, Missouri.

Conventions-Preparation for Future

Conventions are essential to any school in that they form the basis necessary to evolve characteristics of leadership. Through active participation in these various conventions, the participants can and do carry back to their fellow students valuable knowledge. This knowledge is gained by sharing ideas with fellow delegates representing the many sections of our state. Thus, the entire school becomes the richer, and a better understanding is developed.

MAKING LAST MINUTE PREPARATIONS, . . . Ginger Gladden pins a campaign badge on Judy Emery. Judy, running for secretary of the District FTA at the meeting to be held in Springfield, Missouri, eagerly anticipates the challenge.

A FEW MOMENTS . . . of relaxation are enjoyed by Ted Abele and Wiley McVicker as they await their departure to Columbia where they will attend the State FFA Convention to be held April 21-23.

REMINISCING . . . the valuable knowledge gained at the District Student Council Convention held in Springfield, Missouri, are Judy Emery and Jean Edwards, Nevada's student council delegates.

Honors and Awards

ONE OF THE GREATEST HONORS . . . achieved at NHS is being selected as representatives to attend Girls' State at Columbia. Radiantly, Paula Stafford and Peggy Nelson receive this appointment from Mr. Garland Keithly, principal.

CLASS LEADERS, . . . Jean Edwards and John Conway, are the recipients of the highest award available to a Senior student at the Nevada High School. The award is based on class leadership. Service and scholarship are two of the qualities considered when being nominated by the Senior class and elected by the faculty.

Bring Recognition

DORIS HILLIER . . . is shown leaving for Jefferson City where she will represent Nevada High School in the annual Sophomore Pilgrimage. The trip consists of touring the various state buildings, observing the legislature in session, and meeting the Governor of Missouri.

BETTY CROCKER AWARD . . . is attained by Gay Witte as a result of her excelled achievements in homemaking.

CHORUS DIRECTORS . . . Mrs. Jerry Irwin and Mrs. Bernice Ball, plan entertaining concerts and assemblies.

Musical entertainment is provided by both the Junior and Senior High Choruses, which offer much enjoyment for both the school and the community. These musical groups participate in concerts, school assemblies, and spring festivals.

Mrs. Bernice Ball and Mrs. Jerry Irwin find it a pleasure to work with their respective groups in the new Junior High Chorus addition, which was completed for occupancy prior to the opening of the school term.

Chorus

FROM REGULAR CLASS WORK . . . activities to after school rehearsals, the members of the Senior High Chorus are kept quite busy. Mrs. Bernice Ball, directing the chorus, finds her work beneficial in developing character.

Having a special department for Junior High Chorus this year has greatly increased the efficiency of the vocal department.

Training their voices early becomes an important asset to the members.

Provides Melodious Entertainment

Learning the fundamentals of music is the basic interest of Junior High Chorus members. Under the capable direction of Mrs. Jerry Irwin the members provide pleasant programs for assemblies and also participate in concert work.

The "elite corps" best describes the Crescendoes of Nevada High School. Under the direction of Mrs. Bernice Ball, the Crescendoes contributed much to the numerous assemblies and programs at NHS. This group played a major role in the concerts held during the Christmas season and during the spring, in conjunction with the Senior High Band. Also, many of its members attended the District Music Festival at Springfield, where they received high ratings and gained the privilege of competing in the State Music Festival at Columbia. NHS is honored to have an "elite corps" with such eminent musical abilities.

Music Promotes Harmony

RECORDING . . . provides a means for later evaluation, as Judy Johnson, Mike Weber, and Mike Null will testify.

With two years of instrumental training behind them, members of the Eighth Grade Band whet their musical talents in anticipation of their parts in the Senior High Band. In preparation, they learn marching techniques, present a concert in the spring, and perform in Junior High assemblies.

Hopefuls for a Bright Future

Before presenting a spring concert and taking part in several assemblies, members of the Seventh Grade Band learn the fundamentals of their instruments, and each strives to develop musical abilities with the instrument of his choice.

CHECKING SIZES AND CONDITION . . . is a tedious task of the new band instructor, Mr. Shannon.

With the guidance of the new band instructor, Mr. James Shannon, Nevada's marching and concert band had another successful year as an instrumental group. The different functions carried on by the band are playing at pep assemblies, half-time performances at football games, Christmas and Spring Concerts, and playing in parades. The band is an essential part in the year-round activities at Nevada High School.

School Spirit

ENTHUSIASM BUILDS CONFIDENCE . . . as the Tigerettes strive to do all they can to support the Tigers toward victory.

FUN BUT FRIGHTENING . . . is the cry of Connie Stone as she and Wilma Hawkins struggle to decorate the goal posts for an exciting home game.

Backbone of the "A" Team—

Starting the season with an inexperienced team, the Tigers improved week by week and in so doing won five of their last six games to tie for fourth place in the Big Ten Conference. Nevada opened the season with a non-conference game against Odessa. The teams battled to a scoreless tie until the final minutes of the game when Odessa scored.

In the next three games, the Tigers met tough competition as they played Aurora, Mt. Vernon, and Lamar, the teams that finished first, second, and third in the conference. Aurora's passing attack proved to be too much for the Tigers as it did for all of the Houn'Dawgs' opponents. The Tigers played a tough game against Mt. Vernon, only to lose again because of passing. For the traditional Silver Tiger game, the Tigers traveled to Lamar where they lost "Oscar," after a hard-fought contest.

After being behind 19 to 6 at the half, the fighting Tigers roared back to whip Webb City 20 to 19. In the next two games the Nevada Tigers held their opponents scoreless, to defeat Neosho 13 to 0 and Cassville 27 to 0. The Carthage game was a frustrating experience as Nevada lost 7 to 6.

The Tigers finished the season by mauling their last two opponents. Carl Junction was first to fall with a score of 52 to 19. At Homecoming, the last game of the year, the Seniors ended their football careers by annihilating Monett 52 to 7.

WITH SECOND EFFORT . . . and runs like this, Larry Householder gained 1042 yards during the '65 season.

Anticipating a tough season, with only one returning letterman, the Tigers captured third in the Carthage Invitational Tournament for the third consecutive year. The Tigers began conference play by winning three of their first four conference games. They won over Aurora, Lamar, Webb City and lost to defending champion Mt. Vernon. The last half of the season proved to be misfortune. The Tigers managed a lone victory over Cassville in their last five conference games. Falling short of their goal, the Tigers finished sixth in the Big Ten Conference.

A VALUABLE TWO POINTER . . . is made by Junior forward Wade Mitchell. The Tigers went on to upset Lamar 65 to 54.

“My Three Angels”

PERFECTING THE LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT OF THE DECEASED HENRI TROCHARD, . . . the dominant characters Mark Nicolas, Jim Cox, and Gregg Sterett bring to a climax the plot of “My Three Angels.”

“SHE’S BEAUTIFUL,” . . . exclaims Mark Nicolas (Alfred) gazing at the fainted Mary Burroughs (Louise), while Jim Cox (Joseph) and Gregg Sterett (Jules) muse over the impudent letter that announced Suzanne’s engagement to Paul.

Under the direction of Miss Sondra Gehrs, the Junior Class presented an outstanding production of Sam and Bella Spewack’s “My Three Angels.” Situated in Cayenne, French Guiana, this three-act comedy exposes the repeated troubles of the harassed Ducotel household. Three convicts—Jules, Joseph, and Alfred,—who are employed as roofers, become good angels and manage the family affairs with the aid of Adolphe, a venomous snake. Presented December 16, 17, and 18, this play was acclaimed a success by everyone who attended.

"The Rainmaker"

"THE NAME'S STARBUCK! STARBUCK'S THE NAME!" . . . utters James Arthur, leading male in "The Rainmaker."

"THUNDERSTORM! RAIN COMING DOWN IN SHEETS!" . . . exclaims Judy Walter (Lizzie) as she relates her visionary dream of the night before.

Presented by the Senior class March 3, 4, & 5, "The Rainmaker" provided one of the most moving performances ever given at N.H.S. Under the direction of Miss Sondra Gehrs, this three-act comedy by Richard Nash proved to be a tremendous success. A paralyzing drought causes as much worry to a father and his two sons as the fact that their sister is becoming an old maid. Appearing from nowhere is a picaresque man with a mellifluous tongue claiming to be a rainmaker and assuring them of rain for the mere price of $100. Everyone is captivated by his refreshing attitude, including the shy, young girl. Thus the play is a "cloudburst of a hit."

"I NEVER SEEN A MAN RUN SO FAST!" . . . cries Mike Haggans (Noah) as he and Mike Duncan (Jim) join Judy Walter (Lizzie) and Steve Eiffert (H. C.) during a tense moment in the play.

ANXIOUSLY ANTICIPATING . . . an exciting evening are John Conway, Pam Vincent, Marcia Shearer, and Ronnie Harpold.

Prom Highlighted

A FRENCH MENU . . . is prepared to add to the atmosphere for these Juniors and Seniors who attended the banquet.

Perhaps the most spectacular event in the school year is the Junior-Senior Banquet and Prom. Highlighted by the theme "Evening in Paris," the Prom was acclaimed as a tremendous success. The Junior Class of the 1964-1965 term may truly be proud of the atmosphere, which they created for this memorable evening.

DRESSED IN . . . the colors of the evening are these Sophomore girls who have the privilege of serving the Prom.

Desired Atmosphere

"THIS IS REALLY . . . living it up," exclaims Mike Haggans as he, Jean Edwards, Judy Walter, and Stan Knoderer enjoy themselves at a sidewalk cafe.

EBB-TIDE PROVIDES . . . the background as Connie Tow and Doug Allard live a night long remembered.

people religion was necessarily superficial. Figures of the saints, he had already learned that with this in the account of the saints and the very human figures, in the living scenes and the grandly decorated altars, seemed a part of the living scene. Here, these demonstrations disinterested to Jean Marie Latour. Here, these demonstrations ring. In his own country all this would have been highly men and women watched for his hand to kiss the bishop's feet, and as he passed through the kneeling congregation, women threw their shawls on the dusty pathway for him to walk church. When the bishop dismounted to enter the church, the town of yellow walls and winding streets and green orchards. Rather Latour rode into Los Ranchos de Ios, a little were all of them under his thumb.

In northern New Mexico, and the native priests at Santa Fe upon the scene, Martinez had been dictator to all the bishops in spiritual affairs. Indeed, before Father Latour's entrance Anconito rose Martinez, who was ruler in temporal as well as fully about conditions there, and about the powerful old priest with the help of friends, Bishop Latour had been informed any European, except a Spaniard, was regarded as a Gingo. In his diocese. Both the priests of this parish and people there were hostile to Americans and jealous of interference. In a few months Father Latour was ordered to make his first official visit to Ios, the largest and richest parish

This is the end of a day, a year, an entire phase of life. Thoughts of joy, sorrow, fear, and confidence run through the minds of each of us for the last time. The halls of NHS become silent and fade into the shadows of time. Yet, Nevada High School lives on in the heart of each student forever.

to a wonderful summer
in your future years at
HHS

I say lots of luck to a real nice kid. I know that you'll go far. Hope to
